Parent and Family Programs is a unit in the Division of Student Life, operating with the conviction that informed parents and family members are a valuable resource for their students as well as the larger university community. The program office offers support and resources—communication, event coordination, and other opportunities for participation—to parents and families of UO students, including assistance in navigating the university and addressing parental concerns in one-on-one sessions.

Parent and Family Programs encourages parents and family members to attend fall and spring family weekends and Week of Welcome activities, and to stay involved through the Parent and Family Association, Parent Professional Network, or Parent Leadership Council.
