Center for Undergraduate Research and Engagement

The Center for Undergraduate Research and Engagement (CURE) serves as the campus hub for undergraduate students to pursue advance learning opportunities in research, scholarship, and creative endeavors. CURE works with students to explore research opportunities, offers funding support, and creates opportunities for students to showcase their research.