Media Studies Minor

Nearly any student would benefit from a media studies degree. Our program is flexible so you can weave it into your education in a way that works for you. We offer a media studies minor for UO students outside the SOJC.

Media Studies Minor Requirements

The minor in media studies gives students an overview of the role of the media in society.

Students with a major in the School of Journalism and Communication cannot also earn a minor in media studies.

Students who want to minor in media studies should declare the minor online, on the school's website. Students may submit petitions to apply other journalism courses to the minor. A minimum University of Oregon GPA of 2.00 is required to declare the minor.

Code	Title	Credits
J 201	Media and Society	4
J 314	Introduction to Media Studies	4
Select four of the following:		16
J 320	Gender, Media, and Diversity
J 385	Communication Law
J 387	Media History
J 397	Media Ethics
J 429	Media Technologies and Society: [Topic]
J 430	Culture and Power in the Media: [Topic]
J 431	Media Structures and Regulation: [Topic]
J 496	[1]
Total Credits		24

[1] Repeatable once when the topic changes.

All courses must be passed with a grade of mid-C or better.