Global Service Minor

The Global Service Minor and the Peace Corps Prep program both guide students in adding a global, intercultural, service dimension to any major, while encouraging students to reflect on their place in the wider world and their own responsibilities as a global citizen. The requirements for the Global Service minor and the Peace Corps Prep Certificate are identical, and fulfilling requirements for one automatically fulfills requirements for the other. The application process is likewise identical for both, and students may choose to apply for one or both programs simultaneously.

The Global Service minor is a UO degree that, upon completion, will appear on University of Oregon transcripts. Peace Corps Prep is a certificate program for undergraduates awarded by the U.S. Peace Corps, and does not appear on the UO transcript. More info on our website (https://globalservice.uoregon.edu/).

In order to elect the Global Service minor, students apply at https://blogs.uoregon.edu/globalservice/apply-for-global-service-minor/ and meet with the program director to select and approve their coursework and other requirements.

Students select a professional sector concentration and a world region concentration.

• The six sector concentrations are: Youth in Development, Health, Environment, Community Economic Development, Education and Agriculture

• The three world region concentrations are: Latin America, West Africa, World at large

All students complete four required core competencies and students who select Latin America or West Africa also complete a language competency.

• Core competency 1: Professional Sector Concentration (12 credits)

• Core competency 2: Intercultural Competence (12 credits)

• Core competency 3: Practical experience (non-credit)

- Students complete 50 hours practical experience related to their professional sector concentration. Site supervisor certifies satisfactory completion of hours and tasks.

• Core competency 4: Professional and leadership development - 3 activities (non-credit)

- Resume review/critique with UO Career Center or Faculty Mentor

- Attend a workshop on interview skills with the UO Career Center

- Develop and carry out a significant leadership experience and submit a 2-page reflection paper on it.

• Core competency 5: Language proficiency (variable; up to 8 credits)

- Latin America-focused students: Two 200-level Spanish courses or equivalent proficiency

- West Africa-focused students: One 200-level course in a Romance language, or equivalent proficiency

Recommended courses. Note that other courses may fulfill requirements - see advisor for suggestions and approvals.
