Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Graduate Certificate

Whether pursuing an academic career path, a career in law or social justice, industry, government, or the nonprofit sector, a graduate certificate in women's and gender studies offers students knowledge and research skills well-suited to employment and citizenship in an increasingly diverse and global world.

The University of Oregon's WGSS graduate certificate program is interdisciplinary, intersectional, and international in its orientation. The certificate provides graduate students enrolled in UO departments with training in intersectional feminist scholarship and theory, as well as opportunities to teach undergraduate courses in WGSS (enrolled certificate students will receive preference in their applications for WGSS GTFs and summer teaching) and to explore research opportunities with UO's Center for the Study of Women in Society.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this program, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate knowledge of intersectional and interdisciplinary feminist theories and scholarship.
- Demonstrate competence with feminist practices and methodologies.
- Demonstrate knowledge of feminist pedagogies.
- Communicate an understanding of current events and issues shaping and impacting WGSS or WGSS-related fields.

Graduate Certificate Requirements

Code	Title	Credits
Core Courses
WGS 615	Contemporary Feminist Theory	5
Select WGS courses totaling 12 credits from the following:		12
WGS 507	Seminar: [Topic]
WGS 511	Feminist Praxis
WGS 521	Bodies and Embodiment
WGS 522	Sexuality Studies: [Topic]
WGS 532	Gender, Environment, and Development
WGS 550	Literature and Feminist World-Making
WGS 551	Global Perspectives on Gender: [Topic]
WGS 605	Reading and Conference: [Topic] [1]
WGS 607	Seminar: [Topic]
WGS 606	Practicum: [Topic] [1]
Other Courses
Approved graduate courses in WGS or other departments		7
Total Credits		24

[1] Indicates a variable-credit course. The student must declare the credit value upon registering online—e.g., Practicum: [Topic] (WGS 606).

Additional Requirements

No more than 4 credits in Reading and Conference: [Topic] (WGS 605) and Practicum: [Topic] (WGS 606) can be applied to the certificate.

No more than 8 credits may be taken pass/no pass without specific approval.

Applicants should arrange an appointment with the graduate advisor.